Port Arthur Captured by Japanese Armies.

AFTER DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Heavy Losses Reported on Both Sides—The Chinese Military Power Shattered—Japan's Third Army Will Attack Nankin.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from the Central News correspondent in Shanghai says that Japanese captured Port Arthur on Wednesday evening. The fighting began Tuesday. The Chinese made an unusually strong defense, and the fight was severe and incessant for fully 36 hours. Both sides are reported to have lost heavily.

A THIRD ARMY.

Japan Will Attack China in the South Near Nankin.

Yokohama, Nov. 23.—The minister of finance has announced a further was loan of 50,000,000 yen, in fives, making 80,000,000 yen of the 100,000,000 authorized by Parliament to be raised for war purposes.

The third army has left Uujimanon on board the transports, and the destination is not known, but it is rumored that it is intended to operate in the Yang Tse Kiang districts of China. The Yang Tse Kiang river has a total course of 2,000 to 3,000 miles and drains with the numerous large affluents all the central provinces of China. The tide ascends to Lake Poyang, 450 miles from the sea, beyond which it is navigable for 25 miles. It may be navigated for 200 miles from its month by ships of the largest class. Coal is plentiful in many places along its banks, and about 90 miles from the month is situated the southern capital of China, Nankin, one of the most important cities of the empire. Nankin is the center of a very extensive trade and by the great canal which crosses the Yauk. Tse Klang river, about 50 miles eastward of the city, it communicates with Pekin.

Nankin is also the residence of a grand viceroy who has authority over the Klang province. It is a great military depot, and the chief seat of literature in the Chinese empire. The Yang Tse Klang river opposite Nankin is one and one-half miles broad and 25 fathoms deep. The part of the city occupied by the Manchoos is separated by a cross-wall from the Chinese town, and the great extent of this wall renders the defense of the city difficult. Besides it is overlooked from the hills on the east.

A deep canal or ditch runs up from the river directly under the walls of Nankin on the west, serving to strengthen the approaches on that side. On the east side there are three gates, and the land towards the river is marshy. Consequently the gates are approached on stone causeways. The most remarkable structure in Nankin was the porcelain tower, termed by the Chinese the recompensing favor monastery, built in 1411-32, which was prominent above all other similar buildings in China for its completeness and elegance. The tower was of octagonal form and 261 feet high.

In the interior were apartments richly gilded and otherwise elaborately adorned. It was constructed of a kind of white brick made of fire clay. The entire cost of the edifice was estimated at from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000. This great tower was destroyed by the Tae Pings, during whose occupation of Nankin—1853 to 1864 the city suffered much. Nankin has important manufactures of crepe, satin of the finest quality, paper, artificial flowers, China or India ink, and gives its name to the well-known "Nankeen" cotton cloth, which is also made throughout the whole province.

In 1842 the British forces remained before Nankin from August 10 to August 29, on which last day the treaty between China and England was signed and ratified. In 1853 the Tae Pings took Nankin by assault and made it their capital. It was bombarded by the British and stormed and captured by the imperialists in 1864. By treaty it is an open port.

WANTS HER DRESSES.

A Young Woman of Kansas Brings Suit For Her Trousseau.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 23—Mrs. Lottie G. Mitchell, a young and handsome daughter of a wealthy merchant of Minneapolis, Minn., is suing in the Shawnee County District court to recover her trousseau, which was attached some time ago by C. W. Ament, proprietor of Vinewood Park.

Miss Mitchell used to live in Topeka. Her name was Lowenthal then, and her husband ran a jewelry store. This was in 1892. Mr. and Mrs. Lowenthal were newly married, and the bride's trosseau was valued at $3,500.

Lowenthal failed and mortgaged everything he had, including his wife's trosseau, skipped the country, leaving Mrs. Lowenthal behind. Mrs. Lowenthal decided to return to her father's house, and the mortgagee attached. Mrs. Lowenthal hired a lawyer and has been fighting ever since to recover her things. She lost her case once in the District court, but the decision was reversed by the Supreme court, and it is up for trial a second time. Since the suit was instituted Mrs. Lowenthal has taken a fresh start in matrimony. Her present husband, Mr. Mitchell, is a prominent citizen of Minneapolis.

Attempted Suicide.

St. Louis, Nov. 23. John Kaiser, who with Jacob Heinze, is condemned to death January 3 next, for the murder of Edward E. Brown, a stock broker, 18 months ago, to-night attempted suicide in his cell. Since sentence was passed he has received visits from several friends and secretly got possession of a drug. When discovered to-night he was insensible, but prompt work with a stomach pump saved him.

Firemen Injured.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Seven firemen were injured in a lumberyard fire here this evening. Frank Campion, son of the fire marshal, had his right leg broken; John Hannahan, a pipeman, had his right leg broken and received a severe wound in the back of his head; five other firemen were cut and bruised, but not seriously hurt. The men were buried under a mass of burning lumber, which fell upon them, and it was very prompt work which rescued them alive. The fire was in the lumber yard of John O'Brien at Troop and Lumber streets, and the damage to lumber and shingles is estimated at $2,000.

COOKIES IN THE JUG.

Two of the Desperadoes Under Arrest at Muskogee.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 23.—The smoke from the battle with the five members of the Cook gang in the Arkansas bottoms north of Muskogee yesterday has cleared away and as a result two members of the notorious gang are now incarcerated in the Muskogee jail. The marshals and Indian police left Muskogee yesterday at noon, but were only able to prepare the grounds for to-day's battle. Some say that one of the captured bandits is Skeeter, put others think it is "Lucky." One of the captured is T. Lidle.

Tom Wilson and J. B. McGill, two Muskogee marshals, have just arrived from the Verdigris bottom, eight miles north of Muskogee, with Dick Reynolds, another member of the gang, and stated to your correspondent that they had the wounded bandit located, and that they were going after him to-night. The wounded desperado says he will sell his life before he will be captured. Wilson and McGill were in the house where the bandit had dressed his wounds, and could smell carbolic acid and turpentine. They are confident that they will make a sensational capture by to-morrow night. When they came up on Reynolds he was carrying hay into a small cave. Reynolds made a pass to get his Winchester, but was too slow for Wilson and Mack. McKay has six men in the field after three other members of the gang, and expects a report soon. The marshals and Indian police are worked up over the press criticisms, and have entered the field to wipe out the entire Cook gang and restore order in the Indian Territory. The citizens of Muskogee tell the officers to go into the field and that they will protect Muskogee.

READY FOR WAR.

Harvard and Yale on the Field for To-day's Big Game.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 23.—Everything is now in readiness for the big game. Both the Harvard and Yale teams are in the city, each with a large following. The city is rapidly filling up and to-night many are being turned away from the hotels. The city is in an uproar with the Yale blue somewhat in the ascendency. Yale money is freely offered at odds of 2 to 1 and 3 to 1, and is as freely taken by the wearers of the crimson. The Yale team arrived in the city in a special car at 3 o'clock this afternoon and went immediately to the International Young Men's Christian training school, their regular rendezvous here. Every man is in good condition and the men are confident of winning.

The Harvard team arrived early this evening and immediately went to the Hotel Savoy which will be their headquarters till after the game.

The crowd at Hampden park to-morrow afternoon will be the largest in the history of the sport here. Fully 25,000 people will be on the grounds.

The weather has been threatening all day and night and a drizzling rain is falling here. The weather prognistications are good, however, and the park is in such good condition that a large amount of rain will not hurt. The turf is in fine condition.

ITALIAN EARTHQUAKES.

Rumblings and Tremors Terrify the Peasants Around Milazzo.

Rome, Nov. 23.—The earthquakes and rumblings continue in the district around Milazzo. The panic has not abated, and the houses deserted several ago remain unoccupied.

Signor Galli, under-secretary of the interior, visits daily the towns which have suffered most severely. The scenes in the affected district are distressing and ghastly. Many of the injured are horribly mutilated. Graves have been upheaved in the Milazzo cemetery and many bodies must be re-interred. The sufferers are tearfully grateful to the soldiers for their care and attentions. Signor Galli has thanked the troops in behalf of the government. Confidence is returning slowly in some districts, but it will be a tremendous task to restore order. Fifty thousand persons are homeless and destitute.

An Indian Agent Indicted.

Omaha, Nov. 23.—A special to the World-Herald from Lander, Wyo., says that Capt. Ray, United States Indian agent at Shosboro, has been indicted by a local grand jury on a charge of illegally branding cattle. As the last investigation, resulting in the release of Ray, brought out the fact that the prosecuting attorney is also the attorney for the cattlemen, this action is not surprising, as in previous cases Ray was acting under instructions from Washington.

Estee Will Not Contest.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Relative to the talk indulged in by several members of the Republican State Central committee as to a contest before the legislature for the office of Governor, Governor-elect Budd stated to-day that he was quite willing to have a re-count and felt assured that the result would largely increase his plurality. Mr. Estee has addressed a letter to the Republican State committee stating that he would make no contest personally.

Naval Orders.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Navy Department has ordered the ships that have been attending the various trials of the Ericsson to return to their usual station and Commodore Selfridge's board will return to Washington for the present. If the Ericsson can be made ready for another trial in 10 days she may then be given another chance, otherwise it is likely that she will have to wait until next spring.

A Slight Shock.

New London, Conn., Nov. 23.—Slight shocks of earthquake were reported from towns adjacent to this city this morning between 8 and 9 o'clock. No damage is reported as far as known.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun's & Co.'s Weekly Commercial Summary.

SOME CHANGES FOR THE BETTER.

A Larger Employment of Labor and More Demand for Manufactures—A Disposition to Hold Gold—A Decline in Grain.

New York, Nov. 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade to-morrow will say:

There are some changes for the better. The grain is slow and in some directions not very distinct, but the signs of it are a little more definite than last week. The most important of them is larger employment of labor, answering a better demand on the whole for manufactured products. Much of this is due to the unnatural delay of orders for the winter, which resulted from long prolonged uncertainty, but it means actual increase in earnings and purchasing power of the millions, and so gives promise of a larger demand in the future. Prices of farm products in the aggregate do not improve, but the prevailing hopefulness is felt in somewhat larger transactions.

A little premium on gold for the first time since 1878 naturally excites some comment, even though it is only the smallest fractions and apparently due to temporary causes. Undeniably it reflects a disposition to hold gold, which answers to the desire of the Government to get gold without redeeming its notes. About $5,200,000 has been drawn from the treasury by redemption of notes, and it is supposted that much more will be withdrawn, perhaps after the award of bonds so that the first payment may not raise the gold reserve higher than it was a week ago. The upward tendency of sterling exchange points the same way; the admitted need of borrowing does not increase confidence. But after the treasury reserve has been replenished greater confidence may follow. It is expected that a syndicate will bid for the full amount of bonds at a price making the rate 3 per cent, or a little less, and that other bids will also be large, but how much gold the treasury will get or keep is problematical. There is no improvement in the demand for commercial loans and money still drifts to this center, scarcely any going South and none West. There was a little selling of stocks after the reduction of the Burlington dividend, and the average for railroads closed $1.05 lower for the week.

The wheat market has lost this week the cent it gained last week. Western receipts being larger and Atlantic exports are also larger, 561,711 bushels against 703,026 last year, but these are a small account compared with the great visible supply. Foreign reports this week have been rather more promising though the fact remains that the world's crop outside of the United States is probably the largest ever grown. Corn has declined 1½ cent, receipts having much increased. The foreign demand for cotton continues large, exports being 50,000 bales larger than for the same week last year, but receipts also continue greater than a year ago, and for three months will closely approximate those of the same three months when the yield was over 9,000,000 bales.

Railroad earnings in November thus far show a decrease of 3.6 per cent compared with last year, and are 9.8 per cent less than in 1892, but the second week of the month appears a little better than the first. On the trunk lines the decrease is 14.2 per cent, but on the granger roads 27.7 per cent. The west-bound movement of merchandise is lighter and Chicago east-bound tonnage by lake and rail for three weeks has been 250,188 tons against 421,888 last year. Exports from New York for three weeks decreased about 10 per cent, while imports increased about 12 per cent. The increase in dry goods is over 40 per cent, but in most articles only moderate.

The failures for two weeks of November have been moderately large in amount, reported liabilities being $6,502,303, of which $1,713,466 were of manufacturing and $3,831,288 of trading concerns, for the same week last year liabilities were over $7,200,000.

The failures this week have been 322 in the United States against 285 last year and 31 in Canada against 34 last year.

THE NEW BONDS.

Large Subscriptions Will Be Offered for the Cleveland Issue.

New York, Nov. 23.—It is impossible to arrive at any information as to the subscriptions of private investors but there are sufficient facts at hand to calculate the subscriptions of the public and private bankers, insurance companies and bond brokers in New York City at from $75,000,000 to $80,000,000.

Two large parties will put in aggregate bids at a uniform price. There is the Stewart party, in which are included the trust companies, the foreign bankers combined with some large capitalists, whose bids will fot up practically $50,000,000. A second group of bidders includes the large gold-holding banks, such as the Fourth, Chase, American Exchange and National Park, and a number of smaller banks which will subscribe for between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The price at which these two combined bids will be made are understood to be a slightly different basis. Many of the bankers have put in bids for depositors at varying prices, according to orders. The bids of both parties are put in individually by the members, but according to a general agreement. It is stated that the price offered by the Stewart syndicate is about 12-100 per cent below the 3 per cent basis. The bid of the bankers party is reported to be slightly higher terms, so that the bids of the Stewart party would in that case have the preference. It is understood that bids from Boston will aggregate $10,000,000 and from Philadelphia $5,000,000. It is not known what Chicago and the Western cities will do in the matter of subscriptions.

Indicted for Mail Frauds.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—Deputy United States Marshals Taylor and Agnew went to South Bend last night and arrested Dr. Samuel Killmer, Harry McDonald and Elmer Strayer on grand jury warrants issued on indictments charging that the three men have been using the mails for fraudulant purposes. Killmer, McDonald and Strayer are engaged in making and selling notions for the improvement of complexions of women. They represent about 150 firms or companies in South Bend that are making and selling patent medicines and lotions of various kinds. Several weeks ago the Postoffice Department issued an order excluding the literature of some of the firms from the mails and the indictments just returned are the result of investigation that was made before that order of the department was issued. The indicted men were brought here this forenoon. Dr. Killmer is said to be worth not less than $100,000 and McDonald and Strayer are wealthy. They have all made their money out of the lotion business. Dr. Killmer has been doing business under the name of "Louise Fairfield." The men were arraigned before Judge Baker. Each was permitted to sign a recognizance bond for $1,500.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Strong Resolutions Against the Bonds and Adjournment.

New Orleans, Nov. 23.—The Knights of Labor convened this morning at 9 o'clock and administered a rebuke to the United States treasurer for his contemplated issuance of $50,000,000 Government bonds by adopting a resolution protesting against the issue of the bonds in question, and characterizing the same as an unmitigated fraud and outrage upon the toiling masses, in flagrant violation of existing laws, and intended solely for the interest of the money powers and a bond-holding aristocracy. A resolution favoring the amalgamation of all brewing associations into one organization of the Knights of Labor was referred to the general executive board.

The recommendation that all surface railroad employes of the State of New York be united in one body under the Knights of Labor was adopted.

The committee on grievances and appeals made their final report on matters of a purely local character.

Several changes will be made in the secret work and the convention will take final adjournment this afternoon without any intermission in to-day's session.

The general assembly finally adjourned this afternoon. The next convention will be held in Washington in November of next year. Previous to final adjournment General Master Workman Sovereign called Mr. Kennedy of the executive board to the chair and took the floor. Mr. Sovereign then moved that the salary of the general master workman be reduced from $3,500 to $2,500 per annum. The motion was carried unanimously. The delegates will begin leaving this evening for their homes. The members of the executive board will remain in the city until the work left in their hands has been attended to.

A RUNAWAY CAR.

Three Persons Fatally Hurt in an Accident at Omaha

Omaha, Nov. 23.—A runaway motor car jumping the track at a crooked street intersection fatally injured the motorman and two of the pessengers and seriously injured four others this evening. The fatally injured are: A. C. Clark, motorman; Col. A. A. McCoy, Mrs. D. A. Harte.

The seriously injured are: Edward Hayden, D. O. Callahan, Conductor Bruce and an unknown woman.

The train had stopped on Harney street to pick up two passengers and again at the intersection of Twentieth and Farnam, where the line turns the corner going south on Twentieth. The brakes worked all right both times the motorman stopped with perfect ease. Commencing at this crossing is a steep decline, and the car had gone less than a block when there was a decided increase in the speed and a minute later the motorman rushed through the car calling to the conductor that the car was running away, and telling him to put on the rear brake. This the conductor tried to do, but it proved as worthless as those in charge of the motorman.

By this time the car was going at a very rapid rate. At Farnam street zigzag and Twentieth street it struck the intersection. The car jumped the track and turned over several times, finally stopped after going about 30 feet by colliding with a telephone pole. The injured were rescued from the wreck and taken to a neighboring drug store. Clark, McCoy and Mrs. Harte were frightfully injured about the face and body, and cannot live. One of McCoy's arms was broken in two places, and he was also hurt internally. Clark struck on his head, fracturing his skull and Mrs. Harte sustained internal injuries The others were badly bruised about the body and head. Callahan had a leg and finger brogen.

Earthquake in West Virginia.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 23.—This morning about 4 o'clock an earthquake shock was sensibly felt in this city. It lasted only a few seconds, and was followed by vibrations and deep rumbling. Windows rattled and a number of clocks stopped. At police headquarters the police were shaken up and ran out, believing the shock was caused by safe blowers blowing open a safe in town. The effects of the shock were distinctly marked at the weather bureau.

State School Funds.

Denver, Nov. 23.—Superintendent of Public Instruction Murray has for several weeks been engaged in collecting facts and figures for his biennial report, and it promises to be an interesting document when issued. Mr. Murray is giving his personal attention to the work, and the pains he has taken will become more evident when the report comes out.

Among other things the superintendent will recommend will be how the State school fund should be invested.

A Negro Lynched.

Landrum, S. C., Nov. 23.—Last night a negro charged with having ravished a white girl in Polk County, N. C., three days ago, and who was examined and discharged by the North Carolina authorities, was brought across the State line and hanged. GOLD KING COMPANY

Interesting Facts Concerning It and Its Claims.

GOOD FIND IN THE EL PASO.

The Snow Storm Sold—An Ounce of Gold From Four Pounds of Ore—A New Mill for Florissant.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Nov. 23.—The Gold King company, who have hitherto been very careful and adverse to giving mining news to the newspapers, have at last relaxed that rule, and are now willing that something regarding their property shall appear in print. Their El Paso lode, located in Poverty gulch, is being worked mainly by two tunnels, and to-day in the No. 1 or upper level a new and important strike was made. It was in the shape of two feet of ore that runs from $400 to $600 to the ton. In the 160-foot level they have also some very good ore. The new strike consists of a peculiar white quartz. The manager for the company, Mr. Hannum, says they now have ore in every shaft, and in every level in the property. The No. 1 tunnel is now in nearly 500 feet; and No. 2 700 feet, and they have recently started a new shaft on the vein that is now down 20 feet and shows the vein well in place at the bottom. With a force of 20 men they are taking out ore that on the average runs into 10 cars per month; but since the strike made to-day they will increase their force, and consequently their shipments. As soon as the survey is finished they will sink a straight working shaft on the property.

The Oro Grande company yesterday completed their survey for their mill site and water ditch at Florissant, and next week work will be started towards the erection of their mill. If the weather continues favorable this will be in operation inside of 40 days.

The Snow Storm lode has been sold to Eastern parties. The sale was made by Miss Gover and Mr. Lunstrum, and work on the properties will be started early next month. The property is at the foot of Battle mountain.

George Hund and P. J. Maloy took a new lease on the Free Milling lode this evening. The property is situated between the Mary McKinney and the Lone Star No. 2. They have come across some very rich float on the property, and on Monday will start prospecting on the claim for the vein from whence it came.

Mr. A. J. Sticke, the manager of the Stickle Mining Company, is working a sub lease on the Mary McKinney. He has now a shaft on the property that is down 20 feet and a tunnel in the hill 50 feet. In the tunnel there is a vein from two to six feet wide that varies in value from $40 to $2,000 per ton. One car of ore has already been shipped to the Victor sampling works, and they have now made a contract with the Sylvanite mill in Anaconda for all future ore taken out.

Mr. Alexander Terault, who has the lease on the Mary McKinney, now has the shaft down 70 feet and finds it necessary to put new machinery. This will be done at once, and then developments will be continued with renewed vigor. There is a four-foot vein at the bottom of the shaft from which ore is being taken that runs from $35 to $40 per ton.

James Weyand, a miner employed on the Summit, this morning had his hand caught between the rim of the bucket and a set of timbers. It resulted in the amputation of the second and third fingers of the right hand at the first joint. It caused a very painful wound, and will lay him up for several days.

A gentleman who owns a claim on Battle mountain to-day took a piece of ore to Assayer Neals and weighed it on the scale which showed it to be four pounds. He then crushed the rock and panned it and got out over an ounce of gold from it. The assayer arranged to have a handsome ring made of the gold, and to take his pay out of the leavings.

PENSION ESTIMATES.

The Amount to Be Appropriated Less Than Last Year.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The sub-committee of the House Committee on Appropriations, having in charge the preparation of the bill appropriating money for the payment of pensions due in the year ending June 30, 1896, heard Commissioner Lochren in advocacy and explanation of his estimates for that year at the capitol to-day.

As the result of the conference, it was announced by Chairman O'Neill that the sub-committee would report to the full committee a bill appropriating for pensions $130,000,000, and for other expenses $1,381,000. The commissioner stated that in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, the sum paid out for pensions was $123,804,461, which was less than the amount appropriated by $25,205,713. The estimate for pensions proper in 1895-'96 is the same as the amount paid last year, and $10,000,000 less than the estimate for this year.

"In the year 1895," said the commissioner, "30 years after the close of the war, the pension roll must in the course of nature reach its highest limit in numbers, and thereafter begin to decrease. The falling off in the presentation of claims is shown by the fact that the number of pending claims in the bureau has decreased upwards of 90,000 during the year. The large proportion of new claims filed are for increase by pensioners now on the rolls. New claims well proved and of easily recognized merit, are still being filed by deserving soldiers who have long refrained from asking Government bounty and by widows and dependents of such soldiers. In 1891 the number of claims filed was 363,799; in 1894, 40,148."

Colt's Trial.

Columbus, O., Nov. 23.—The special military court of inquiry has adjourned to Dec. 4. Colonel Colt's attorneys rested their case shortly before noon and witnesses for the citizens of Washington Court House who are criticising Colonel Colt's action were called. The first witness, Rev. T. G. McNair wh[illegible] troops showed lack of courage by withdrawing inside the court house. The best people in Washington Court House wanted Dolby hung a d while he did not care to take a hand in it he did not trouble himself to dissuade them.

F. M. Kennedy saw Colonel Colt enter a certain saloon four times; the day of the shooting, and Jacob Thone, an employee of the saloon, testified that the Colonel drank whisky there. Kennedy saw soldiers drinking from bottles and saw six that were evidently drunk. H. D. Barnes swore that two bushels of bottles were brought to the saloon where he worked that had been picked up inside the court house just after the troops were withdrawn.

L. B. Saxton corroborated the evidence as to drinking by the soldiers, but cross-examination brought out the fact that sledges used to batter down the doors were secured in his shop and that a rope to hang Dolby with was concealed there.

Paul Palmer saw Colonel Colt stagger out of a saloon the evening of the rioting. He believed he was drunk.

The Czar Begins to Rule.

London, Nov. 23.—The Daily News correspondent in St. Petersburg confirms the report that the Grand Duke Vladimir will go as Governor to the Caucasus. "He will be succeeded as commander-in-chief of the St. Petersburg troops by the Grand Duke Serglus while the husband of the Grand Duchess Xenia will take the Grand Duke Serglus's place as Governor of Moscow.

"The Czar is displaying unexpected energy. It is stated that he placed M. The investigation will be open to the public.

Miners Sentenced.

Of the 63 miners convicted of riot at the Shawmut mines seven received light sentences and the others were discharged.

The Rate War Spreading.

Omaha, Nov. 23.—It was given out here to-day that the Rock Island will augment the uneasiness in railroad circles caused by the disruption of the Western Passenger association and inaugurate a rate war between this point and Chicago to conform with that made between Kansas City and Chicago. As a consequence all of the other roads in the city are making all kinds of guesses on the ultimate outcome. They say if the Rock Island does this they will be forced to follow suit and then some carving to the core will be the result until a new passenger association is formed in Chicago Monday.

A Carnegie Factory Burned.

Beaver Falls, Pa., Nov. 23.—Carnegie's wire nail works, occupying a whole square in this city, were burned to-night. The total loss will reach $10,000. The works were equipped with the finest machinery, all of which was destroyed. The works are fully insured.

Two hundred men will be thrown out of employment and the fire will likely stop the whole Carnegie interests in this place.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23. Col. Breckinridge will again tempt fate. He will open his lecturing tour in Music hall at Cincinnati on Christmas night.

CONDITION OF LABOR IMPROVING IN COLORADO.

It Follows Naturally Upon the Growth of Business and the Investment of Capital—Railroad Men are Well Pleased With the Outlook.

Denver, Nov. 23.—Every day it becomes more apparent that the increased business of the State is not only real but [illegible]. Visitors to the capital from other cities all tell of better times, but it is equally true that they all admit the improvement to be gradual and far removed from any spurting resembling a boom. The condition of the labor market is improved, according to the statement of men in a position to know, but also, these same men say that there are more men in the State than there is steady work for. This is particularly true of cities.

C. A. Tripp of the Missouri Pacific has just returned to Denver from a business trip over the State. He reports that at every point he visited he found improved business. "The improvement is slight," Mr. Tripp says, "but it is material. Merchants all tell me their sales are increasing, and that they are reducing their stocks in a satisfactory manner. Many are buying already, but the railroads will hardly feel this until after the first of the year. It is never the case that merchants stock up before the new year. At any rate I am satisfied that trade is better. In fact, I know it from our own business."

The earnings of the Colorado division of the Missouri Pacific are 70 per cent. higher for October than the same month a year ago with tonnage, showing a remarkable advance.

For the condition of the labor market State Labor Commissioner Breathitter says as follows:

"No one would say the market was good. It is not, but it is not bad compared with other fields. Wages are lower than they were two years ago and many men are idle. For all that, excepting in the larger cities, the condition of the working men is not to be complained of. The silver camps, even, are doing well. Aspen, which in its palmiest days did not work over 2,400 men, now has 1,200 men at work. Other silver camps are doing about the same. Going into the gold camps, there is positive good times there. Cripple Creek is working, of course, more men than it ever did. Creede is a good camp, but it is not as good as it was. There is nothing strange in that. At Leadville times are good, but they might be better. Perhaps we are so accustomed to seeing soaring times here that we cannot appreciate the situation, but looking at conditions from a broad field, Leadville working men are well off. They are getting lower wages than they used to, but these compare with any other wages paid in other States. They are getting work to do, which is more than thousands upon thousands of workmen in other States can say.

"It is true," continued the commissioner, "that with the decrease in wages has come the decrease in expenses. Board for laboring men, which in better days was high, is now exceedingly low. To-day they pay $2.50 a week for board and lodging, a rate which at one time would have been considered ruinous to anyone making the rate. Supplies of all kinds have fallen with wages, and in a manner have equalized themselves.

"It is when we come to Denver that the condition of the labor market is at its worst. There are many idle men here, but when we say this it is but honest to invite a comparison with cities in other States. Work is scarce and wages low. I was told to-day of a brickmason working for $1.50 a day, but he had steady work and preferred it to letting some other man get it. I am also told that stonemasons are working here for $2.50 a day. Miners are offered all the way from $2.75 to $3.25 a day, according to the man they work for. Common laborers have no standard. They simply make their own terms with the contractors and get what they can. I should say $1.50 is a fair average. I can recite an instance of a man, however, who left this office not an hour ago who has just finished digging a 100-foot hole for $1 a day and is anxious to get another such a job. It is hard to think of a man working for this, but remember $4 workmen in the big cities East who are crying for bread.

"In railroad wages there is but little or no difference in the schedules. These are all making good wages. One or two schedules have been reduced, but even then they are at a high figure."

The commissioner's report upon trades unions is unsatisfactory. He deplores that stress of times has made possible the engagement of many non union men speaking as a State officer, however, his comparison of the labor market with other States was gratifying.

Freight men all predict a falling off of tonnage now, and say the decline began with Nov. 1. This is the custom in shippers. H. Halthusen, the heaviest wool dealer in this country, is now at the Brown Palace hotel en route to New York. He has 3,000,000 pounds of wool stored there purchased in this and adjoining States. Mr. Halthusen thinks there will be no change in the wool situation for several years, and it is at the bottom and could not possibly go lower. Sheep men are now growing their clips on that basis and are conforming to the situation. Any gain will be to their advantage and they all look to favorable legislation from the next national administration. According to Mr. Halthusen sheep all over the country are in good condition and the situation of the western sheep man is as good or better than his fellow in the East, whose taxes and other expenses are high, compared to which the western man has but little to meet.

COUNT VON MULLER.

CHAPTER II.

FRITZ MULLER, THE COURT TAILOR.

Our story skips over several centuries.

The social earthquake of the French revolution, which set up and pulled down so many royal houses, had left the dynasty of Wolfsteinberg untouched. The margrave of the day had been one of those who so unpatriotically assisted the great Napoleon, but the only reward that he received for his perfidy was the substitution of the grand ducal title for the time honored flame of margrave. The old castle where Otto the Good had lived his time had long been in ruins, and a new palace had gradually grown out of a hunting castle, built close to the spot where Fritz, the miller, had immortalized himself. Their serene highnesses the first and second grand dukes had enlarged and decorated it in the style of the period, and the burghers of the new city that grew up round about it thought that Versailles itself could hardly eclipse it

But, alas! there was a very big skeleton in the grand ducal cupboard. His serene highness was woefully in debt. He owed money everywhere He was in arrears with his soldiers, and his court musicians, and his purveyors, and his ministers Above all, if the truth must be told, he was terribly in debt to his court tailor. He had not a large family to support, having only one son and one daughter, but they were both old enough to help their illustrious father in piling up a heap of bills. The heir apparent had achieved great success in that line both in Paris and in Vienna, and the beautiful Princess Gertrude, who had just reached her twenty-first year, was as clever in making debts as in making conquests. Her dresses were the wonder of her father's subjects; but, sad to say, none of them had been paid for.

The court tailor was Heinrich Muller, the only son and successor of the late Herr Muller, who had made a considerable fortune in military tailoring during the wars of Napoleon, and who had bequeathed to his son not only a handsome business, but a name which in one sense was as illustrious as that of the grand duke himself, for, although he was only a tradesman, he was the lineal descendant of the heroic Fritz, the miller, whose deed of valor I have already chronicled. Add to this that the present court tailor, Heinrich Muller, was a well educated and handsome young fellow. He had studied at the University of Strasburg, and if a slight scar, which he got in one of his many duels there, took anything from his good looks it certainly made him more interesting and almost made up in popular opinion for his want of aristocratic blood. It was thought that when his old father died he would throw up the business and take a commission in the army, but, to the astonishment of every one, he did no such thing He still continued to measure his serene master for pantaloons and the Princess Gertrude for riding habits.

If any one supposed, however, that Heinrich was without ambition, he was very much mistaken. It was often noticed how fond he was of getting into the great dining room at the schloss and feasting his eyes on the picture of his brave ancestor slaying the wolves, and he had made a model of the old wolf stone in the park and placed it on top of the great china stove that stood in his workshop

Under the circumstances Heinrich Muller was a little bit of a mystery, but at last a rumor got abroad that struck every one dumb, and when it was carried by the prime minister, old Baron von Dernfeld, to the grand ducal ears his serene highness almost fell down in a fit. It was said that the rich and handsome young tailor was in love with the Princess Gertrude

There was a long and anxious conference that night between the prime minister and the grand duke. The sun was already slanting his rays in at the window before they separated; but, turn the matter over as they could, they found no sufficient answer to the terrible question, "What is to be done?"

The Soldierly Way.

The lady was seeking to be disagreeable to the young army officer.

"I suppose," she remarked, with a faint sneer, "that some time in your career you have beaten a retreat?"

"I have, madam," he admitted without a blush.

"Ah, indeed? Will you tell me how you did it?"

"Certainly, madam I did it by making an advance. That beats a retreat all to pieces." Detroit Free Press.

Qualified Forgiveness.

"You ought to have been at the prayer meeting last night," said Deacon Sowbers. "Bill Abnerford got up and told how he had forgiven you fer that hoss you sold him."

"Oh, yes!" said Deacon Podberry, "he's fergive me all right enough, but all the same he ain't paid fer the hoss."

EL PASO'S TWO GREAT CITIES

A short time before election, we pointed out the fact that there was no locality in this State which was more vitally interested in the choice of the law and order ticket than Cripple Creek. The prosperity of that camp depends very largely on the capital that is attracted thither for investment. Every new investment means that much more work for miners and smelters, and that much more gold taken out of the ground and sent to the mint.

The course of events has already proved the wisdom of this assertion. The camp is more solidly prosperous to-day than at any former period of its existence. It has passed the speculative stage, and is recognized as a good place for permanent investment. We do not mean to say that there is no speculation there remains as much as ever, the possibility of making fortunes on a small capital by a fortunate location; but the great number of properties are now on an investment basis. Their value can be computed with a reasonable approach to accuracy. Any investor who puts his money into a stock listed on our mining exchange may be assured that the stock he gets represents real value, and has something back of it, not as a "gamble," but as a legitimate business proposition.

That the riches of the district have hardly been touched as yet, the columns of the Gazette afford every day abundant proof. Scarcely a day passes that we do not have news of some new find which bids fair to turn out a wonder. And these things are facts. Our correspondents have the strictest instructions to verify every item before sending it in; and while mistakes will occasionally occur, they are rare, and the facts as stated may be depended upon.

A gentleman of this city who is largely interested in mining, and who had just come down from camp, told us the other day that it was much easier to obtain news about Cripple Creek here than in the camp itself, because of the superior service of The Gazette. In the camp one may hear all sorts of rumors, but what is printed in The Gazette is so. We are glad to have this testimony to the value of our special service, and we shall spare no pains to make it as accurate and complete as possible.

We sometimes think that our citizens generally do not appreciate what it is to this city to have this great new mining camp right at our doors. Go to any real estate man in this city, and he can point to you house after house here which has been erected with money made in Cripple Creek. Go to almost any business man, and he can tell you of large purchases of goods of different kinds made by men who have made their money in the camp. Go to any banker, and he can tell you of large sums of money kept in this city which have come from Cripple Creek. In short, the prosperity of Colorado Springs is bound up with the prosperity of Cripple Creek to a larger degree than most of us have any idea of.

This is one reason why the future of Colorado Springs is so bright to-day. We have many other advantages—advantages which of themselves would put us in the lead of other cities, but with this superadded, we are in a position such as is occupied by no other place of equal size on the continent.

Before the election, there were vague rumors that if Waite was defeated, there would be trouble at the camp. But those rumors have proved to be groundless. Instead of making trouble, the bad men who were there have taken themselves to more congenial surroundings. The conservative, law-abiding citizens of the place have asserted themselves, and to-day Cripple Creek is one of the safest mining camps in the world, and bids fair to remain so.

El Paso county is favored by nature as few counties can be, and art and skill have added to nature. With the finest residence city in the world at the foot of the mountains, and the greatest mining camp in the world up in the mountains, with health and wealth helping each other, and going hand in hand—this county will march forward with unprecedented strides in the path of prosperity and progress.

LOCAL WORK OF THE W. C. T. U.

By an entirely accidental coincidence, there appeared in yesterday's Gazette on the local page, an article showing the good work done by the W. C. T. U. in this city during the past years, and on the editorial page an article making a little fun of some of the vagaries of the national organization of the W. C. T. U. At first this coincidence might appear to be unfortunate, but on reflection it seems to us that it was not so. It illustrates the difference between the work of the organization as a moral and remedial local force, and the attempted work of the national organization as a branch of a political party. The former is worthy of praise, the latter is scarcely worthy of any serious consideration.

The branch of the W. C. T. U. in this city has done much good, and it deserves the support of all right-thinking citizens in its efforts to improve the condition of the girls it has undertaken to care for. The employment bureau conducted by the organization is an excellent institution. It has had a good influence on the girls and women whom it has served, and it is as efficiently managed as any organization of the kind anywhere.

If the national organization were conducted on these lines, and devoted its attention to such practical matters, it would be a force for good, and for good only; but since it has gone into partisan politics, and taken to rainbow-chasing, it has lapsed, lost the influence which previous years of good work has secured for it. It is a great credit to the women of this town, that here the organization has maintained its character as a moral force, by attending to business and doing good practical work. In this work we wish it all success, and will do all we can to help it along.

THE PARTY OF THE FUTURE.

The speech of ex-Speaker Reed at the Home Market club dinner in Boston, a full synopsis of which we printed yesterday morning, is one of the best speeches of the year. It was moderate in its tone, broad in its view, and hopeful in its outlook. The most significant passage in it was that in which Mr. Reed spoke of the duty of Republicans for the future. This victory, he said, was won not by our organization, but by our principles. "But," he added, "great as our victory is, there is a greater which we must win. By our wisdom, moderation and good sense, we must so govern this country that the great questions of the next six years may have as noble a solution as the great questions of their day had at the hands of the great Republicans who preserved the Union, upheld the honor of the nation and gave the people thirty years of peace, prosperity and progress."

While the Republican party has been able to "point with pride" to its past, it has always been essentially a party of progress. It has moved as fast as the majority of the people were able to move. Its face has been set to the future, not to the past. And this characteristic, under the leadership of men like Mr. Reed, it retains and will retain. The great mass of the party, as well as its principal leaders, realize that old issues are constantly passing away and new issues coming to the front. In 1876 the great question at issue was the resumption of specie payments. The Democrats said, "We cannot resume," the Republicans said, "We will resume, and they did. That question is settled.

Since then, the Republican party has made prominent the question of protection to American industry and American labor. We cannot say that that question is entirely settled yet, but it is in a fair way of settlement, and on Republican lines. Now there are other questions coming to the front, foremost among which is the currency question. The relations of the general government to the great railways, the means of transportation and distribution, is another question that is coming to the front, and that must have a solution within the next few years. These questions must be settled by practical statesmanship, and we believe the Republican party is better equipped with that necessary article than either of the other parties now before the country. It has both the respect for property rights and the conservative inaction which are necessary to prevent a violent disturbance of existing interests and the courage and spirit of progress which are necessary to mark out new lines of legislation and adapt new methods to changing conditions. The Populist party lacks the former, the Democratic party lacks the latter, and what is quite as important, practically, the Republican party has the capacity to put its ideas into working form—a capacity which both the other parties lack.

These are some of the reasons which lead us to call the Republican party the party of the future. No other party now in existence or likely to come into existence, possesses the necessary qualifications for the task that is before this country during the next decade.

It is worth while to remember, in forecasting the future of parties in this country, that the total Democratic vote cast at the late election was more than three times as large as the total Populist vote. In round numbers, the Democratic vote seems to have been about 4,200,000, the Populist vote, about 1,300,000. And it must be remembered that a good many Democrats voted the Republican or the Populist ticket this year who may not do so again, so that the total number of Democrats is really larger than appears from these figures. But even on the basis of these figures, the Populist party is going to need a very extensive dig the apparatus if it proposes to swallow the Democracy within the next two years.

One of the most useful institutions in the city is the Free Library and Reading room. The number of visitors averages over 100 a day, and it is doing a good work. It deserves the hearty support. At present it is out of funds, and money is needed at once to defray current expenses.

Contributions, no matter how small, will be welcomed; and we trust that within a week there will be enough voluntary remittances to put the finances in good condition.

He Will Soon Meet Ives, Schaefer and Sexton in Billiard Matches.

Edward Fournil, who claims to be the champion billiard player of France is now in this country looking for a match with French Jake, Jacob Schaefer or George Sexton, the three of America billiards. The world famous experts, while the cue are now busy with other engagements, but before long Fournil will be given an opportunity of meeting one or all of the Americans. As Fournil has beaten Vignaux, long considered the king of French experts, and such lesser lights as Piot, Cure and Gay, he will without doubt make a strong showing against any American player he may be called upon to meet.

EDWARD FOURNIL.

Fournil is an athletic looking Frenchman about 30 years of age and is prepossessing in appearance and manner. His fine physique has won for him many a game, his strength enabling him to make brilliant round the table plays and long runs without fatigue. His strength, however, does not interfere with his delicacy of touch, and it is said that in gentle, nursing play he fondles the ivory spheres with a cue tonic as soft as swan's down. He has shown rare form in his series of 600 point balk line games with Maurice Daly, the famous New York expert, and has won a large percentage of the matches. Nightly runs of from 105 to 135 were features of the Frenchman's play during the interesting series. In a game against J. Randolph Heiser, Fournil won by the very creditable score of 500 to 148, making runs of 100 and 108 during the evening's play. It is said that some of the gathering shots thus far shown by Fournil are new in principle and execution.

William A. Spinks, the present practicing partner of Jacob Schaefer, has challenged Fournil to play him a match game of 14 inch balk line billiards, 600 points up, for $500 a side and toss for choice of table.

An Owl Vanquished by Blackbirds.

A couple of Laporte hunters are relating a very peculiar story. While they were in the woods last week they saw a deadly combat in mid-air between an owl and a flock of blackbirds. The birds kept up a terrible squeaking. Presently the owl fell to the ground exhausted. Its head was pecked and battered out of shape and its eyes entirely gone. Indianapolis Sun.

THE TEMPLE OF FAME ENTERTAINMENT.

It Was a Very Beautiful and Interesting Performance—A Suit Started to Break the Lease on the Dolly Varden—What the Plaintiff's Charge.

An entertainment was given at the opera house last evening called the "Temple of Fame." It was given for the benefit of the First M. E. church society and was a meritorious affair. It was beautiful, most cleverly designed and had much in it for much thought. The idea is this: The Goddess of Fame, represented by Miss Genevieve Severy, appeared with her court and invoked the presence of all the women famous in history that she might place the crown upon the head of the most deserving. Then she took her seat on the throne and the characters began to appear. Each recited appropriate lines telling who she was and her claim to first place. There were nearly 40 different characters and 10 tableaux so that it is impossible to give a description of all. Only a few of the most striking can be mentioned. Most of the characters walked in from the wings and recited or sang their lines while the tableaux were given from the back. The effects were beautiful and a great deal of attention had been given to the costumes. Many old pictures and photographs had been studied to get the correct costume and likeness of the characters. Of course it was not difficult to properly dress Xantippe or Queen Elizabeth, for everyone knows how they dressed, but there was Mrs. Stowe and Mrs. Browning in the dresses and with the headgear of 50 years ago. A splendid chance was offered for comedy and Topsy was there and Mother Goose, and Biddy O'Flannigan, Josiah Allen, Mrs. Partington and Ike. The most beautiful and elaborate tableau was the "Approach of Cleopatra," Miss Harriett Barnes in her barge. A very effective tableau was that Nydia, the blind girl in Bulwer Lytton's "Last Days of Pompeii. This was taken by Miss Lockwood, a student from the institute, and was very nicely done. The last to appear was "Mother," a very pretty tableau by Miss Harbison. The queen of course placed the wreath on her brow while the other candidates gave approval in song. The candidates took their places around the stage as they concluded their lines and the groupings with the brilliant costumes, was very effective.

During the evening the audience was treated to vocal music by Mr. Fitch, Miss Woodworth, Mr. Byron Fields, Miss Dudley and others. Miss Oma Fields was the accompanist on the piano.

The credit for the very clever entertainment is due to Miss Inez Fields. She not only trained all the speakers but designed most of the costumes and bore the burden of labor. Mrs. A. D. Craigue was the financial head of the affair. The audience was not as large as the entertainment justified for really it was one of the very few amateur exhibitions ever given in the city with a reason for existence.

DOLLY VARDEN SUIT.

The Enterprise Company Will Try to Break the Lease.

For some time there has been talk to the effect that the Enterprise Mining company would attempt to break the lease on the Dolly Varden claim and yesterday the suit was actually started. The stock of the Enterprise company is largely held here and the officers live here, Mr. A. M. Ripley being the president and Albert Wright, secretary. This bids fair to be one of the big mining suits of the year. The suit is an injunction and is entitled The Enterprise Mining and Land company vs. John Ronning, et al. The attorneys for the plaintiffs are Thomas, Hartzell, Bryant & Lee of Denver and Mr. Thomas has been here for some days looking up the case and preparing for it.

The complaint in the case sets up about as follows: That on July 25, 1891, John Ronning took a lease of the south half of the Dolly Varden claim, the lease being given by A. M. Ripley as president without consulting the stockholders. They however permitted defendant to take possession. On the 20th of September defendant while working on an undeveloped portion of the claim uncovered a valuable vein of mineral. This fact became known to Messrs. Reuter, Sweeney and Brooks, and plaintiff alleges that they combined with Ronning to conceal the facts from defendant company until such time as they could make better terms with them and secure a new lease.

In the original lease Ronning did not have the right to transfer any portion of the lease to others. On the 24th day of September Mr. Ripley, the president, did enter into an agreement for a modification in which the royalties were cut down and defendant was given the right to transfer interests in the lease to others. The defendant immediately assigned an interest to Sweeney, Reuters and others and after that they threw off all disguise and began to ship ore from the mine. Plaintiffs set up that the lode is of great value and that the modified agreement makes a difference of many thousand dollars each month in the royalties.

Plaintiffs pray that the lease and modified lease be annulled and that defendants be required to immediately give possession of the property; that a temporary writ of injunction be issued restraining defendants from mining, shipping, etc., from the claim.

The date of hearing has not been set.

The County Fair.

The famous success "The County Fair" will be presented at the opera house next Monday evening. Everywhere this comedy has caught on immensely. Its great success everywhere is best proof that the public is surfeited with the exaggeration and pruriency of the imported drama, and crave that which is understood and natural, and that they are tired of tights and decollete dress of the society play. The secret of the play's effectiveness lies in the glimpses of rural life is exploited with admirable scenic embellishment. It is a play that shoots at the people's hearts not over their heads. Everybody can appreciate the desperate hopelessness of the boy Tim when he is about to be sent away from the farm, and the heroine's predicaments are just as amusing as the petty trials that every one experiences. In fine, the commoner feelings of every-day humanity are played upon, and the whole thing is rounded off with something attractive to everybody—a horse race. It would be a dull clod indeed who failed to get a bit excited while the race scene is on and the jockeys are whipping for all they are worth.

"Killarney."

The engagement of Miss Katie Emmett in "Killarney," at the opera house this evening will no doubt prove attractive not only to those who appreciate plays of the Irish class, but to the general theater-going public. The play of "Killarney" is not only an Irish play dealing with Irish characters and Irish scenes, but Miss Emmett has put it before the public in a manner complete in every detail, and the sweet Irish love story is set in a frame of delightfully picturesque Irish scenes. There is every marked attention to detail, and the result is that each one of the several scenes of the play are beautifully presented as to stage mounting and costuming. Of the play itself, it is full of dramatic interest, and is rounded out by the introduction of a number of new and catchy songs by Miss Emmett, and its numerous strong climaxes are both well and naturally worked up, so that its presentation is harmonious and perfect in every way, and it bids fair to be the leading play of all the Irish dramas that have ever achieved popularity from the dy when the late Boucicault was the recognized author of plays of this kind down to the present.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Tall boys and short boys, lean boys and fat boys of all shapes and sizes to the number of 50 or more gathered at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. The occasio was the first social to the junior department of the Y. M. C. A. At 4:30 the boys assembled in the parlor and listened to a mandolin solo by Mr. W. H. Reynolds, and a violin and guitar duet by the Misses Strong and Blake. Professor Hutchinson then gave the boys an exhibition of fancy Indian club swinging which was loudly applauded. They then adjourned to the gymnasium and played games for a time after which cake and cocoa was served and the way it disappeared was a caution. The boys voted the first junior social a "howling" success.

Young men's class in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium to-night at the usual hour. All who are going into the exhibition are asked to be on hand promptly.

Junior members of the Y. M. C. A. have their drill in the gymnasium this forenoon at 10:30.

The second topic in the "Sea Side Series" of talks Sunday afternoons at the Y. M. C. A. at 4:15 will be given to-morrow by Ben Scovill on the subject "Tempest Tossed." Mr. Scovill has served his time on the sea as cabin boy and also before the mast, and knows what he is talking about. All men are cordially invited.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Ferran and wife, Cincinnati; Geo. A. Hul, Omaha.

About 7 o'clock last evening the bookkeeper at Durkee's hardware store returned to the building rather unexpectedly after the closing hour. He lit an electric light and then heard some one in the back of the store. Turning out the light quickly he went to a show case and loaded a revolver. He could still hear someone moving about and coming to the front of the building sent a young boy to look for the police while he stood guard. The police came quickly but the fellow had gone. He made an entrance through an alley window and his footprints where he had stepped on the desks in getting in were quite plain. He had evidently just made an entrance and nothing is missed.

The Junior Order of United American Mechanics proposes to secure the building of the Orphan's Home here, and has appointed committees to push the project. The organization has a membership of about 200,000 in the United States, and could keep up a home nicely.

A Shrewd Swindler.

Yankton, S. D., Nov. 23.—The fraudulent practices of John T. M. Pierce of the mythical financial firm of Pierce, Wright & Co., which were briefly detailed in the United Press dispatches last night, assume a graver aspect as they are unearthed. It is now the opinion that Pierce has floated not only $500,000 of the manufactured bonds, but even three times that amount. It is the worst case of wholesale swindling ever coming to light in the Dakotas. The firm of Pierce, Wright & Co. is composed wholly of Pierce, Wright having withdrawn several years ago, and the "company" being an unknown quantity. The firm has existed at London, England, at Yankton, at Spokane and at Holyoke, Colo., and has done business in all those places. The principal office of issue has been at Yankton, which has been Mr. Pierce's place of residence. The London office was the place where his various issues of fraudulent and ficticious school bonds and certificates were negotiated. In school bond issues he has covered the South Dakota counties of Yankton, Bonhomme, Hutchinson, Turner, Clay and Union, and some others in all probability. The business has been going on may years. The last school bond to come to light is dated December 1, 1893. It was for $25,000, payable to J. P. Crennan, who died several years before it was issued. The signatures are forged. It is guaranteed by Pierce's London house, and was sold to English parties. The ramifications of his operations extend from Sydney, Australia, to Vancouver, B. C., and from London to Mexico. In all of these places he owns property of greater or less value. His interests in Mexico are stock in gold mines. In the Aurora mine, near Zacatecas, he has sunk $50,000 endeavoring to develop the property, and get it into shape to sell to English capitalists. He is said to be in Mexico now, but it is believed he is elsewhere. In his exploits Mr. Pierce has been assisted by one or two shrewd Yankton operators and promoters, but while they shared the profits they escape the disgrace. Their nests are feathered, and it is believed their skirts are clear of the multitude of crimes.

Criminal proceedings against Pierce were commenced this afternoon. Every foot of his property in Yankton has been turned over to other parties, and it is announced that all of his possessions will go to satisfy creditors.

Strict Rules for Naturalization.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 23. Judge Stowe, Collier and Slagg sitting in common pleas court No. 1 to-day adopted a set of rules which will in the future practically shut off the naturalization of aliens in court. It has long been a question as to whether State courts had jurisdiction in the matter of naturalizing aliens, the point being raised that the United States courts alone had the jurisdiction. The new rules will require that the applicant to be naturalized shall give public notice of his application in a newspaper two weeks before the time set for a hearing and he must be able to speak and read the English language. Every petitioner shall allege in his petition under oath that the expenses of his application are not paid or to be paid by any political party or committee, or person representing or acting for the same.

The Howgate Case.

Washington, Nov. 23—District-Attorney Birney said to-day that no matter what the decision of Judge McComas may be on the demurrers filed by Captain Howgate's attorney to the indictments against the ex-army officer, he would endeavor to secure a new indictment. If the old indictment is sustained the District Attorney will have the choice of the two on which to base his prosecution.

For some time past there have been rumors that all the official papers relied on to prove the alleged guilt of Captain Howgate had been abstracted from the files of the War Department and other places of deposit. Mr. Birney says that he has any number of living witnesses whose testimony will be sufficient to prove every allegation against the defendant.

A Verdict for the Denver Company.

Pittsburg, Nov. 23.—The jury in the case of the Denver Consolidated Electric Company against the Standard Underground Cable Company of this city, which retired before noon yesterday, came into the United States Circuit court to-day. A verdict for $36,625 in favor of the plaintiff was granted. The claim was for $52,000 rebate on alleged defective cables furnished by the defendants, and the trial of the case consumed almost six days. It is very probable that a new trial will be asked for by the cable company.

English Labor Leaders.

London, Nov. 23.—John Burns, M. P., and David Holmes, president of the Wedvers association, will sail for America to-morrow on the steamer Etruria. They are delegates to the Trades' Congress to sit in Denver next month. They will be accompanied by John Benn, Radical member of Parliament. John Burns said this evening: "I mean to endeavor to crystallize and indicate to the congress the precise position and aims of the labor movement in England. Have I any views on the relations of labor and capital in America? Well such impressions as I have are second hand and I prefer to say nothing on the subject until I can form my opinions from what I see in that country of mixed people. I shall be absent six weeks."

Horsewhipped on the Street.

Webster City, Ia., Nov. 23.—Pretty Mrs. Barney Kelly, the wife of a prominent real estate man, in company with her sister, horsewhipped H. H. Himbaugh, a real estate man, this afternoon. Himbaugh was walking along Second street when accosted by the ladies, one of them drew a short rawhide whip from under her cloak and while denouncing him for circulating stories about her character, she applied the lash vigorously. Mr. Himbaugh attempted to run into a nearby drug store, but was pursued by Mrs. Kelley, who had snatched the whip from her sister. Great welts were raised across his face and he will be confined to the house for some time.

THE WRITER.

Rider Haggard's brother, Colonel Andrew Haggard, is seeking fame as a novelist. He is bringing out "Tempest Torn."

Miss Ednah Proctor Clarke is a young woman who is slowly but surely making a notable place for herself in the world of letters.

Dr. Holmes frequently ended sentences and chapters with prepositions and other insignificant words. Chapter 6 of "Elsie Venner" ends with the words "attend to," and chapter 12 ends with the words "die of."

"The Child In the House," the late Walter Pater's last publication, deals with reminiscences of his early days, and, curiously enough, speaks particularly of his impressions of death and tells us how the desire of beauty only intensified the fear of death.

One of the cleverest of the new writers of fiction is Mr. Frankfort Moore. He was for some time a journalist in Ireland, but now lives in London. He is described as a handsome man, with fair hair, a soldierly figure and a face expressive of kindness and humor.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Several years ago, my blood was in bad condition, my system all run down, and my general health very much impaired. My hands were covered with large sores, discharging all the time. I had no strength nor energy and my feelings were miserable in the extreme. At last, I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon noticed a change for the better. My appetite returned and with it, renewed strength. Encouraged by these results, I kept on taking the Sarsaparilla, till I had used six bottles, and my health was restored."—A. A. Towns, prop. FURNITURE.

Do not be fooled by any closing-out sales of furniture. Some dealers advertise a closing-out sale for a few weeks and then go east and buy a new stock, which shows that the closing sale was a money-making sale.

Do not be fooled again, but come and see our goods, which are better in quality and cheaper in price than at any store in the city. We don't have to resort to clap-trap advertising; our prices are always right.

Colorado Springs Exchange.

Colorado Springs, Nov. 23.—Only was comparatively lacking on 'change this morning but most of it was in the cheaper stocks such as Bob Lee, Work, Golden Age and Creede and Cripple Creek. Argentum J. was quite dead and Mollie was nearly as bad as only 150 of it changed hands. The continued heavy offers for Bob Lee are naturally having a good effect on the price of the stock and it is now being bought in at 8 per thousand, and Golden Age has also improved in price and is selling readily at 1¾ while in some instances as high as 1¾ was was paid. Work is being handled about between the 2 and 2¾ mark and is quite active there being plenty of ready takers at the lower figure.

There was not much doing at the second call and what there was of it showed the silver stocks to be somewhat weak and the gold ones stiff. Exception must be made to Portland which took quite a slump, mainly through the efforts of a bear who offered a block of 2,000 shares at a price much below the market. There were no heavy sales but there were sufficient to bring the total over the 26,000 mark. Once again Bob Lee remained firm in price and sold as high as 1¼ per thousand. An attempt was made to bid and offer stock at fractions less than an ¼, but it was promptly quieted. The total sales for the day were 15,400.

The separate sales for the first call were: Anaconda, 125 at 25; Bob Lee, 500 at 7½, 3,000 at 8½ and 300 at 8½; Consolidated, 100 at 1½; Creede and Cripple Creek, 700 at 1¾ and 400 at 1¾; Franklin, 100 at 3½; Fanny Rawlings, 300 at 6. For the second call they were: Argentum J., 100 at $1.45, 100 at $1.25 and 200 at $1.24½. STAR OF THE WEST.

Past, Present and Probable Future of the Company.

Quite an interesting history is attached to the early days of the Star of the West company which lately has come into so much prominence through being in such close proximity to the New Discovery, the Mutual company's claim on which an important strike has lately been made.

Since the boom days of the camp, and since its accompanying excitement has faded away, those who have thought the matter over and at the same time were not in the know, have been inclined to class the Star of the West as one of the "Wild Cat" company's of those days but such an appellation to it is in no wise correct.

The facts are that the Star of the West had some of the best claims for a company of any that were incorporated in the early days and it must also be remembered in this connection that this land lying close to Poverty gulch, where the first big strike was made, was thought much more of then than either Battle mountain or Bull hill.

When the Star of the West claim was first looked at and with the Eldoran lode formed into a company, the former property was developed by a shaft 18 feet deep that was being sunk on a vein. The ore from this was tested and gave returns of from $30 to $100 per ton. The work went on and at 30 feet a pocket of ore was encountered that gave assays of from $120 to $763 per ton. The assays were five in number and were made by Professor Lamb who at that time stated that they were the best batch of assays that he had made in a long time.

However, this pocket was gone through but at 45 feet another and better one was encountered and some beautiful specimens of ore literally covered with free gold were taken out. It was at this period that the larger stockholders thought they had a firm grip on the whole world. Assays on this ore went anywhere around the $5,000 mark, and a small shipment of the ore was made that returned about $120 to the ton. After that the ore played out again and sinking was continued to a depth of 55 feet and drifting up the hill 125 feet. This drift was in no wise barren for at one point a vein from 6 to 10 feet wide was cut through which assayed from $10 to $20 to the ton. Here another shipment was made and a net ng of $10 was made on the ore. Something better than that was looked for then, stockholders wanted a fortune to order in those days and so the vein was abandoned and the work was discontinued.

Later on some parties, thinking the claim was abandoned did some work about 250 feet above the old workings and sunk a shaft some 30 or 40 feet the ore from which they said ran from $30 to $40. They too quit work when it was ...explained that the company had not abandoned the claim or had not any intention of doing so.

Then comes the lapse of about 30 months and the next heard of the property is in connection with the New Discovery. The directors awake from their slumbers, rub their eyes and wonder why such a very promising property has been allowed to remain idle so long. They are looking after it now though and as a good start sent Mr. J. C. Dickey to look over the property. Mr. Dickey is well known as a very conservative man but in his own words he was amazed at the fine outlook of the claim. He says that there can be no doubt that the New Discovery vein runs through the Star of the West, and he adds that with intelligent mining there is a good future for the property. He likes the look of the lower end of the property better than the upper and favors trenching as a start to other things. Trenching he claims is the only method to start work in the Cripple Creek district.

Curb Sales.

There was a tremendous amount of activity on the curb yesterday and Union was the busy stock. Not only was it busy, but it was also very strong in price and starting out at about 15 cents in the morning it rapidly rose until at night it was actively inquired after at 17¼ and 17½. The sales for the day were 37,000 in this stock alone. Another busy one was Mutual at about the 3 mark. Golden Eagle was busy too, also Columbine and Golden Dale, the latter being bid for in large blocks. The boys were kept hustling all day and it is the busiest they have seen for many a day past.

E. C. Fletcher & Co., mining and investment brokers, 2½ North Tejon street. Cripple Creek stocks a specialty.

The Denver Pit.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Nov. 23.—The tone of the market here this morning was very good but what was lacking was any appreciable bulk of trading in the higher priced stocks. Work was the busiest stock of the bunch and was selling freely at 2¾. The strongest stock was Anaconda but though 25 was bid it was only sufficient to entice out 2,000. Gold and Globe, Gold Standard and Mollie Gibson are all amongst the strong stocks, the latter was held at $2.40 at which price a couple of hundred changed hands. In spite of the comparatively small amount of business transacted there was an underlying strength that does not show itself in the table.

Below are given the official sales and quotations for the call.

Amity	1½	1½	2000
Anaconda	25	25½	1200
Bangkok	2½	3	....
Boston & Idaho Ton	11¼	15	....
Fanny Rawlings	7½	7½	....

Mollie Gibson	2.37	2.40	200
Mt. Rosa	4½	4¾	....
Pharmacist	6½	6¾	....
Work	2½	2¾	4000

The following are the business transacted on the curb: Lottie Gibson 1,000 at 2½, 1,000 at 2½; Portland, 1,000 at 38; Argentum J., 100 at 1.45; and 1,000 at 1.45; Isabella 100 at 15.

Only a Few Deposits.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Nov. 23.—This was San Miguel's day at the mint as from that county came the largest single deposit of the day. It was from the Suffolk Gold Mining company and it weighed 226 ounces. El Paso was again prominent with 3½ ounces, which, of course, came from Cripple Creek. Its near neighbor Fremont, sent in six ounces and all the rest came from "Colorado Unknown." This latter lot aggregated 206 ounces, making 728 ounces in all for the day.

Current News.

Another 15,000 day on 'change, the third this week. Total for the five days 175,152.

Union is to be the next company to make application to be listed with the exchange.

Union climbed in price at a great rate yesterday and was the busy stock on the curb.

Broker Dickens says that business just came to him since his list was published in The Gazette appeared.

There is a report on hand that a good strike has been made on the Dead Pine lode in the shape of a rich ore chute.

Not much noise has been made about it but the fact should not be missed that Cripple Creek has now another dividend payer on its list. The Nugget company is a "dividend."

It is said that several of the boys on the curb got short on Mutual in the early days of the week and fairly tumbled over each other to get the stock. Things have righted themselves now however.

Mr. Stephenson's 20-stamp mill in the McCourt district has at last been started to run and the results are awaited with considerable interest. If the returns are as good as the operators of the mill expect them to be they will at once put up a 100-stamp mill with even more to follow. They are working on a very large low grade proposition and think they can save from 50 cents to $1 per ton.

The following from an exchange refers to some of the claims in the Balfour district in which local parties are interested: The machinery is all in on the Black Joe property and the shaft house will be finished in a few days. The property is considered as the best in camp and will probably be the first producer. The work of drifting will be begun on the Balfour Mining company's property tomorrow morning. Some very fine rubies were taken out of the King of the Rockies shaft last night.

It is becoming the habit on the exchange to deal in stocks at the 1-16 fraction. It was very noticeable yesterday in the case of Work which, for a piece of sheer manipulation, was bought and sold at 2 1-16, a matter of 62½ cents for every thousand shares sold. If this kind of thing goes on it is probable that 32nds and 64ths will be quoted even if it does not get worse than that. The feeling among the brokers is against this exaggerated dividing up of prices and if a few cannot abide by that feeling there should be some rule established to restrain them.

From the very best of information the Gazette learned today that the Pike's Peak mine belonging to the Union company, is in better condition than ever before in its history. The company today received returns from one car of ore out of the 4 recently sent from the mine, the lot weighed 22 tons and gave a net return of $16.60 and the other two cars, it has been ascertained, will go much better than this. Some local parties, who are large stockholders, lately employed an expert on the mine for their own satisfaction and he looked in every winze, shaft, drift, stope and other excavations peculiar to a mine. His report was most satisfactory and he stated that the Pike's Peak was the best looking mine he had visited in the Cripple Creek district. To-morrow the directors meet to consider the question of making application to list with the exchange and that they will decide to do so is almost assured. There is a good balance in the treasury and a dividend in December may confidently be expected.

Secretary D. V. Donaldson was in the rostrum once again yesterday and called to a busy day. During his absence in the East he has been doing lots of good work for the association which he represents and to that end visited the Consolidated exchange of New York, the Petroleum exchange of Philadelphia and the Stock exchanges of Pittsburg and Chicago. Mr. Donaldson makes record of being very kindly received but had quite a hard time to get them to listen to anything about mining stocks and only did so by addressing the brokers publicly from the callers rostrum and in the end made them so satisfied that he feels assured that it will not be long before our association will be sending quotations to New York, Chicago and all the other important exchanges in the East. The secretary found the Colorado Springs exchange already well known in the East and had any amount of questions to answer regarding Cripple Creek, which is much talked of. It could be gathered from Mr. Donaldson's conversation that a great deal was done by personal representation that no amount of writing could have accomplished. As soon as the stocks listed with the exchange are registered and a few other details agreed upon by the governing committee the daily quotations will go East.

People interested in gold mining should examine the assaying outfit at room 24, Bank building. Quick and accurate

Business Properties.

Centrally-located business properties in this city are among the choicest real estate investments that can be secured anywhere. They hold their values through all kinds of times, rent steadily and at good rates, and are constantly becoming harder to get. We make a specialty of inside business properties and can usually offer about 90 per cent. of all that is on the market. Just now we offer a lot of good properties ranging from one end of Tejon street to the other, at prices that are lower than they will ever be again. Tejon is the center, always will be, and an investment on this street anywhere between the two parks will always be safe.

We offer some good business properties on Kiowa, Pike's Peak, Huerfano, Cucharas, Nevada and Cascade. One particularly good thing we offer is 25x100 feet, partly improved and rented, near the best corners in town, for $12,500. In this investment there is a chance to double your money in five years and get interest on your investment in the meantime.

If you are looking for a safe investment safer even than life insurance, and as safe as government bonds don't overlook business properties in Colorado Springs.

We offer a modern house of nine rooms, large hall, double cellars, electric light, gas, sewer connection, furnace heat, corner lot on North Nevada avenue, for $5500, on easy terms of payment. This is $1500 under real value.

THE MARKETS.

A VERY NARROW MARKET AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The General List Shows Net Losses—An Encouraging Drop in Sterling Exchange Corn and Wheat Both Show Slight Declines.

New York, Nov. 23.—Money on call has been easier at 1 per cent Prime mercantile paper 3@4 per cent. Prime percan weak with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 86@4 86¼ for 60 days and $4 87¼ @4 87½ for demand Posted rates $4,86½@4 88 Commercial bills $4 85¼@4 86¼. Bar silver 62¾ Government bonds have been strong, State bonds dull, railroad bonds weak. Silver at the board was 63⅛ bid

It was a very narrow market at the stock exchange to day, the total sales being only 176,567 shares against 236,857 yesterday. It was noticed during the day that brokers of the leading bear operators were picking up stocks and it was thought that the breaks in Sugar, Chicago Gas, Lead and Northwest were brought about for the purpose of facilitating the covering movement in another part of the list. The buying for the short account was especially pronounced in the case of St. Paul, about 12,000 shares have been, it is alleged, taken by a prominent operator The firmness of the Grangers in the early trading was all the more noticeable because of the poor October statement of the Northwest road, the loss in gross earnings having amounted to $774,000 The general belief that the bond issue will be heavily over subscribed and that the Government will thus be enabled to increase its gold reserve by thirty or forty millions, was the main reason for the covering movement There were, however, some weak spots to the market, notably Sugar, Chicago Gas, Reading, Lead, Distillers, Cordage guaranteed and Northwest. Sugar was affected by the reports of poor business in fears of Congressional interference Chicago Gas and Lead weakness were ascribed to manipulation by the pool in these specialties and the heaviness of Cordage to the closing out of an old bull account. Northwest was sold on a belief that the directors will follow the policy outlined by the Burlington and Quincy, and reduce the dividend rate. Reading weakened on talk of foreclosure, and Philadelphia sold the stock down to 16⅞ Near the close Southern Railway common and preferred moved up on a report that a block of the securities had been placed abroad and that the stock will be listed in London. An encouraging feature of the situation was the drop in sterling exchange at the close, due to more liberal drawings by bankers in anticipation of heavy foreign purchases of bonds. Speculation closed steady. The general list shows net losses of ¼ to 1 per cent. Chicago Gas leading. Lead lost 1⅝ and Cordage preferred 3. Pullman gained 1⅜ per cent.

Railway and miscellaneous bonds were weak. Sales were $1,023,000

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—The force of the decline in wheat met with decided opposition from the holders of puts to-day. There were so many of these privileges sold last night to the innumerable believers in lower prices that in the natural order of things the demand they gave rise to resisted the weight of offerings and even changed the course of values. The information was all in favor of the bears. Cables from Liverpool were lower both early and late. Receipts were large, Chicago having 122 cars, 32 over the estimate, and the Northwest 800, 276 more than on the corresponding day a year ago. Foreigners were selling in New York and New York in this market. The December liquidation, which is an annual feature of the latter half of November, was again prominent to-day as it has been all this week. Export clearances of wheat and flour were light, aggregating but 149,072 bushels Withdrawals from store were 49,400 bushels. Continental closing cables were unchanged for Antwerp, lower for Paris and higher for Berlin. The market closed at the highest point of the day, which was ⅜ cent lower than yesterday's final figures for May. New Yorkers were the buyers, at the close the Wall street contingent evidently taking a hand May wheat opened from 65⅝ to 65⅞, declined to 65¼, rallied to 65⅝, where it closed. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 19 cars

Corn—The heavy receipts of corn continues to be the discouraging point to the trade in that grain. To-day there were 531 cars received at this place To-morrow 575 cars are expected. With the weather auspicious there is hardly any reason to expect a break in the supplies and speculators are averse to buying under these conditions. Cables to-day were lower Withdrawals from store were 99,551 bushels, and 53,982 bushels cleared at the Atlantic ports May corn opened at 48¾, sold between 48⅝ and 48½, closing at 48⅝@48⅞—a shade lower than yesterday.
